February Trip Report

Twenty two vehicles followed Craig out of the Albertsons parking lot towards Laramie for our annual sledding trip. Soon after crossing the Wyoming border, we turned off onto the Pumpkin Vine Road for a leisurely trip across the prairie.

Most of our newer members and guests had never been this way before. They were amazed when we stopped at the Ames Monument for a brief history lesson on the town of Sherman and the highest point on the Union Pacific Railroad. The next stop was at the Lincoln Memorial Rest Area to take advantage of the warm restrooms.

By the time we got to the Happy Jack Recreation Area, everyone was ready for some sledding and tubing. The kids scrambled up the hill to try out the perfect sledding conditions. Meanwhile a few of the adults (?) set about starting the fire to cook our chili over. Once again we have to thank Cotton for providing all the wood for the fire. Chief cook and pot scrubber Ron Kapperman set up the tripod and cooking pot while Lori G. got her workout opening all the cans of chili. She filled the pot to almost overflowing and still had some cans left over. She also set a table of chili fixin's. We had several types of grated cheese, jalapeño peppers, all sorts of crackers and even a bunch of chocolate chip cookies. Ron had a lot of help around the fire. There was See No Evil (Shane), Hear No Evil (Darwin) and Speak No Evil (Gene). They all took turns stirring the pot, stoking the fire and dishing out the hot chili.

While all the cooking was going on, the kids on the hill were having a blast. Over the years we have learned that Travis will ride anything down the slippery slope that he can get his hands on. This year it was a broken plastic door molding from a Pontiac. At one time or another, everyone was done in by the moguls on the slope. We did hear a couple of kids cry when they flipped but in just a few minutes they were trudging up the hill for another go at it. The most spectacular crash of the day was Sharon Newton who got a little too much air and landed on her neck. After about five minutes of laying in a heap in the snow, she was escorted to her chair for a little R & R. When we had had all the fun we could stand, it was time to pack up and head for home. Ron got the pot cleaned up and as per his custom he had more chili on him than he got into some of the bowls

Shane in his new Rubicon Unlimited and guest Scott Kallase in his Toyota pickup had to try some snow busting on the Pilot Hill Road. They reported near perfect snow conditions and had a great time for an hour or so before they headed south. The day was deemed a success as it was just another fun day with the Mountaineer family.

There are a lot of motels to choose from. Go online to check them out and make reservations. Guests are always Welcome --- see ya there !!!

Kelly Flats Cleanup & Camp Out

Mark your calendars on May 21st and 22nd for our annual Kelly Flats camp out. The back loop of the Kelly Flats campground will again be reserved Friday and Saturday nights for those who wish to dust off their motorhomes, tents or campers. We will leave from the campground promptly at 9:00 am on Saturday and work on the Kelly Flats Trail. We will clean water bars and pick up trash in preparation of the trails opening. Sunday we will work on Seven Mile trying to mitigate the damage that has occurred over the winter. There will be no fee for those that will be camping. If you do not want to camp, be sure you meet the group at the campground before 9:00 am on both days or you will be locked out.

Are ya havin' a Bad Day????

Well, then, consider this.....

In a hospital's Intensive Care Unit, patients always died in the same bed, on Sunday morning, at about 11:00 a.m., regardless of their medical condition. This puzzled the doctors and some even thought it had something to do with the supernatural. No one could solve the mystery as to why the deaths occurred around 11:00 a.m. on Sunday, so a worldwide team of experts was assembled to investigate the cause of the incidents.

The next Sunday morning, few minutes before 11:00 a.m., all of the doctors and nurses nervously waited outside the ward to see for themselves what the terrible phenomenon was all about. Some were holding wooden crosses, prayer books, and other holy objects to ward off the evil spirits. Just when the clock struck 11:00, Pookie Johnson, the part-time Sunday sweeper, entered the ward and unplugged the life support system so he could use the vacuum cleaner.

Having a Bad Day????

The average cost of rehabilitating a seal after the Exxon Valdez Oil spill in Alaska was $ 80,000.00. At a special ceremony, two of the most expensively saved animals were being released back into the wild amid cheers and applause from onlookers. A minute later, in full view, a killer whale ate them both.

STILL think you're having a Bad Day????

Two animal rights defenders were protesting the cruelty of sending pigs to a slaughterhouse in Bonn, Germany. Suddenly, all 2000 pigs broke loose and escaped through a broken fence, stampeding madly. The two helpless protesters were trampled to death.

What?? STILL having a Bad Day???

Iraqi terrorist Khay Rahnajet didn't pay enough postage on a letter bomb. It came back with "Return to Sender" stamped on it. Forgetting it was the bomb, he opened it and was blown to bits.

There now, feeling better????
